Nanny Angel Network celebrates early successes in new Kingston office

Kingston, Ontario - After 10 successful years in Toronto, the Nanny Angel Network (NAN) has launched operations in Kingston and is actively lessening the impact of cancer on families in our community by providing free, specialized in-home childcare.

Join us for the NAN Kingston Open House to hear about NAN's early successes in our community

When: Thursday, October 3, 5:00 to 7:00 p.m.

Who: Formal remarks at 6:00 p.m. from:

- The Office of Mayor Brian Paterson
- Audrey Guth, Founder of NAN, cancer survivor, L'Oreal Paris Canada Woman of Worth and CNN Hero

Where: The Sanctuary, 221 Queen Street, Kingston

Attendees will have an opportunity to meet with one of our first recipient families as well as the volunteers that are the heart and soul of our success. Come and share in our vision for NAN and our early success in Kingston.

ABOUT NANNY ANGEL NETWORK

Mothers with cancer often delay treatment due to lack of childcare and support. NAN is the only non-profit organization of its kind in Canada - providing free childcare for mothers with cancer, from diagnosis, through treatment and recovery or during palliative care and bereavement. Childcare is provided through a network of volunteer "Nanny Angels" with professional childcare experience and trained by NAN to help children navigate their moms' cancer. Each family is paired with a volunteer Nanny Angel who cares for children for four hours a week.

Since NAN was founded in 2009, it has supported over 800 families in the Greater Toronto Area, providing more than 22,000 hours of free childcare, supporting more than 1,000 children. After just a few short months NAN is assisting nine families in Kingston and looks forward to your support in spreading the word about this valuable resource for families in our community.
